

BENEFITS OF THE NEW TRAINING SCHOOL

Work Is Not Confined To School Room But All Classes of Life

Mr. W. E. Larson, State Inspector of rural schools, Wisconsin published in the Sept. 1910 number of the Western Journal of Education, an article on "County Training Schools." It is so sound and so full of good sense that, coming as it does from the pen of one who knows conditions in Wisconsin probably better than any one else, it seems desirable to reproduce a portion of it here.

Mr. Larson says: "The Wisconsin plan of training teachers for the country schools in special institutions known as 'County Training Schools for Teachers' or 'Institutes' in the early nineties. Among those who started the movement were men of experience in this particular field of educational work. After some years of discussion and agitation a law was enacted, in 1899, authorizing the establishment of two such schools. Applications were immediately made by two counties. Since that time each legislature has increased the number of 'training schools.' At the present time twenty-six are authorized, and of this number twenty-four have been established. One of these will begin its work in September. This is the Oneida Co. school.

"It is seen from the foregoing that these training schools are authorized by the state legislature, but that they are brought into existence by the counties. The body that makes the application to have one of these schools located in the county is the county board of supervisors. The board also elects two persons who, with the county superintendent, constitute the training school board. Two-thirds of the expenses of maintenance are paid by the state and the remaining third is provided by the county board. The schools are, therefore, county institutions under state supervision.

"The course of study covers two years of work. High school graduates and others of sufficient maturity and preparation may complete the work in one year. The common branches are taken up both from the academic and from the professional standpoint. It is not the purpose of the schools to give a smattering of the so-called higher branches. The teacher in the elementary school must first of all know the branches she is to teach. It is a sad comment upon some of the phases of present day high school work that many students entering the training school from high schools know less about the common branches.

CLAMMATION BY GOVERNOR.

Davidson Issues His Annual Thanksgiving Day Declaration.

The last issue of the New North contained the Thanksgiving day proclamation issued by President Taft. Today we publish the proclamation of Governor Davidson. It follows:

Thanksgiving Day.

A Proclamation by the Governor.

The labors of the husbandman have been blessed with abundance. The crops of our fields have been garnered, and we are assured of plenty and peace for the coming year. The general health of our people is good. Education is making progress as never before. Our homes are more numerous, our factories larger, our business increased over a year ago. The brotherhood of man is coming nearer day by day. Labor and capital are appreciating daily more and more their mutual rights and obligations.

For these and other blessings we should acknowledge the goodness of Almighty God and invoke His aid in all our public and private undertakings.

Therefore, I, J. O. Davidson, governor of the state of Wisconsin, in accordance with the proclamation of the United States of America, and by authority of law, designate

Thursday, November 24,

Thanksgiving Day, and recommend that the people meet upon that day in their various places of worship and give praise and thanks giving to the Supreme Ruler of the Universe for the manifestations of His loving kindness toward us.

TURKEY PRICES THE SAME.

Rhinelanders Say There Will Be No Slump.

In conversation with some of the Rhineland meat dealers, regarding the turkey market, they state that there will be but slight difference, if any, in the price of the fowl this year and that of last Thanksgiving. Last year turkey sold from twenty-three to twenty-five cents per pound and even at this seemingly high price it was impossible to supply the trade.

To be assured of turkey for Thanksgiving dinner, one should order from his dealer at least one week in advance. A few of the butchers and grocers have ordered a supply of poultry for the holidays just sufficient to furnish their customers. In this way they are not left with any stock on hand should there be a decrease in the demand.

The majority of turkeys that will be consumed in this city on Thanksgiving are raised in the vicinity of Clintonville and the farming districts west on the Soo line.

SALVATION ARMY TO ABANDON WORK HERE

After Twelve Years Organization Finds That It Can No Longer Exist In This City.

With the departure of Capt. L. Simpson for Eau Claire, Friday, the Salvation Army in this city will cease to exist.

Army Lacks Funds.

Capt. Simpson asserts that for the last year or more the Army has had a hard struggle to keep up its quarters here. Only a very small interest has been taken by the people of Rhineland, and the money received from collections has not been sufficient to maintain running expenses. The reading rooms and lodging house opened last spring have not been patronized to any extent. These rooms, located in the Daniels block on Stevens street, were closed last week.

A few days ago Capt. Simpson called on the head officers of the Army at Minneapolis and before them told of the situation in this city. The result of the conference was in order to discontinue the organization here. Capt. Simpson, who has for the larger share of his life, been engaged in Salvation Army work, has been transferred to Eau Claire. There the organization is in a flourishing condition, with a big membership and financial conditions of the best. Capt. Simpson says that the Army is deeply in debt here, but that after the first of next January he expects to return and settle all bills. He has been in charge here since October 1st, and a week after his arrival, realized that the Army would soon have to abandon its local work.

Here Twelve Years.

Twelve years ago the Salvation Army established barracks in this city. For the first six years its affairs progressed smoothly. The membership increased and contributions were liberal. Then interest began to wane and the various officers, who have since been in command have had no easy task. That the Army has accomplished good during its stay in Rhineland no one can dispute.

A DAY WITH MENDELSON

Woman's Club Has An Enjoyable Program Tuesday Afternoon.

At the Woman's Club meeting, Tuesday afternoon, a Mendelson program was given. Miss Allen, librarian, gave a brief review of each selection.

Following was the program:

1. Duet—I Would That My Love; Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Moore.
2. Violin Solo—Spring Song; Consolation; Mr. La Motte.
3. Paper—Mendelson; Mrs. W. E. Brown.
4. Rondo Capriccioso; Miss McQueen.
5. Overture—Midsummer Night's Dream; Mrs. Hampton, Miss Ransom.

The paper by Mrs. Brown was interesting and showed careful preparation. She spoke, also, of having heard, while in Washington, his great oratorical "Elijah." The program was fully enjoyed and at its close the ladies spent a pleasant social hour.

MANY HUNTERS ARE IN NORTHERN WOODS

It Is Estimated That Two Hundred Rhinelanders Are Now In Quest Of Deer.

To attempt to make personal mention of all the Rhineland people who are in the woods after deer, would be next to an impossibility. A conservative estimate gives the number of hunters from this city, now in various parts of Northern Wisconsin, as two hundred. Many have been and returned with their quarry, while others are yet to leave. Red jackets and caps are everywhere in evidence.

In spite of reports sent out from this vicinity, before the opening of the season, that deer were scarce, to all appearance, the animals seem to be as plentiful as in any past season. Many fine carcasses have been brought to the city within the last five days. It will not, however, be until the close of the season, on the day of November 30th, that the largest number of deer will be brought in. It is usually at about that time that the hunting parties leave the woods, bringing with them a season's game.

The game wardens, on duty in this section have been unusually alert in their duties. In nearly every northern county arrests for violations have been made. So numerous are the strange wardens in the woods this year that a hunter dare not risk breaking the law for fear that his own neighbor may nab him.

Law On Shipping Deer.

Since the opening of the deer season the New North has received many inquiries concerning the shipment of deer. Some people, who have evidently not read the law covering this provision, seem of the opinion that deer can be shipped at any time and in any manner during the season. Here is the law:

Any hunter, resident or non-resident, in possession of a hunting license may kill and transport one deer during the open season. No deer can be transported before Nov. 12 or after December 3. No deer or part of a carcass of a deer can be shipped, but must be accompanied by the hunter, with coupon section "B" of his license attached to it. If a non-resident, sections B and C are to be attached to the carcass or part of the deer.

Any carcass or part of a carcass of any deer had in possession in or near any hunting camp or found in traps, if without said coupon attached may be seized and sold by any warden according to the law.

UNKNOWN MAN MEETS DEATH FROM TRAIN

Stranger Asleep on Track Near Mercer Is Struck By Northwestern Limited

As he lay prostrate on the track an unknown man was struck and instantly killed by the south bound Northwestern Limited train, two miles above Mercer, Tuesday night. The body was frightfully dismembered.

From the glare of the headlight the engineer could see the form on the track ahead. He at once applied the emergency brakes but the train could not be stopped in time to avoid hitting the man. The engineer said that to all appearances the man was asleep. It is the presumption that he was under the influence of intoxicants and fell on the track in a drunken stupor. Near the scene of the accident there is a resort and it is thought that he was either on his way to or from that house.

Owing to the dilapidated condition of the corpse identification will not be easy. The remains were taken to Mercer. This is the second man to meet his death at Mercer in a similar manner this fall.

In honor of their tenth wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Wilcox were surprised by fifty friends at their home at 33 Mercer Street, last evening. They were the recipients of gifts of granite and unware. Cards were in order after which a three course luncheon was served.

JUDGE HAS QUIET WEEK.

Only One Case Disposed Of In Municipal Court.

This has been a quiet week in Judge Walker's court. Only one case was disposed of—that of a drunk so oppressive has been the silence that the Judge is thinking of locking up shop and going fishing.

On Monday John Fitzpatrick, a woodsman, was fined two dollars and costs for being drunk and disorderly. The complaint against Fitzpatrick was made by Chief Straub.

A warrant was issued Tuesday for the arrest of Louis Lintner and one, John Doe. Doe's real identity is unknown. The men are charged with assaulting John Hohenle and Paul Walentowski near Pelican Lake Saturday.

ADVANCE CAR MAKES VISIT HERE FRIDAY

Bad Roads Delay Machine Two Days—Rhinelanders May Be Included On Auto Run

Owing to bad roads having retarded its progress the official pathfinder car, of the Wisconsin State Auto Association, was two days behind schedule when it arrived in Rhineland last Friday evening.

From Antigo the car was piloted to this city by the car of C. P. Crosby. At Bundy the party was joined by the Conro auto occupied by Mr. Conro, Paul Gaston and Ralph Eundson. Those in the pathfinder car were W. C. Moore, president of the state "Auto" association, Manning Vaughan sporting editor of the Milwaukee Sentinel, John Gorgeon and G. W. Brown. Mr. Moore acted as pilot. It was about six o'clock when the machines reached this city.

Mr. Moore said that since leaving Milwaukee, with the exception of the rough highways occasionally encountered, the trip had proved uneventful. At the different cities through which the party passed, on the proposed 1911 route, they had been accorded the best of treatment.

As to whether Rhineland will be included on the route Mr. Moore was unable to state. He liked the spirit shown by the auto owners of this city in their efforts to secure the run and said that the committee will give Rhineland every consideration.

In February the matter will be definitely decided. In that month a delegation from this city plan on going to Milwaukee to meet the members of the association.

Should this city be selected the party will be assured of a rousing welcome on its arrival here. The local committee has already in mind many features of entertainment. These include a banquet and public reception.

Wausau, the next city visited by the pathfinder, is also making a strong bid for the run. If that city should be successful it is certain that Rhineland will be left off the list. As the 1910 run passed through Wausau it is the expression that that city should not receive further recognition from the association.

What Vaughan Says.

To the Sentinel Mr. Vaughan wired the following: "The roads between the rival cities are rough in spots but lightning fast in the warmer months. Though Wausau is crazy to be made one of the feature points of the run, Rhineland is just as anxious to entertain the motorists. Headed by Charles Conro, a party of the leading citizens of the town have offered to throw the place wide open to the tourists. A banquet and floral parade is planned, in fact, Conro and his friends intend to do the job up 'brown' if Rhineland is included in the run."

MEET THEIR PASTOR.

That the members of the M. E. church and their friends might meet and become more acquainted with Rev. and Mrs. Clemens, a supper and social gathering was held at the church last evening. After the spread, which was prepared and served by the ladies of the congregation, the evening was given over to a discussion of the church affairs in general. Addresses were made by Rev. Clemens, Judge Alban and Judge Walker.

DECREE IS ENTERED IN WATERWORKS CASE

Order Plant Sold On Foreclosure—Must Pay Hydrant Rentals Within 60 Days

In pursuance of the opinion rendered by Judge Sanborn in the Circuit Court of the United States on October 4th in the case of The Trust Company of America vs. The City of Rhineland, the full text of which appeared in the October 27th issue of The New North, the final decree of the Court was entered at Madison November 6th.

It is ordered that the plant be sold at public sale to the highest bidder for cash after one year from November 8th unless the city shall in the meantime redeem the same by payment of $105,120.70, the principal and accrued interest on outstanding bonds; $7500.00 allowed to the trustee for payment of attorneys' fees, and the costs of the action, not yet taxed; making a total of $112,620.70, exclusive of costs, which sum, with interest on same at 6 per cent to the time of payment, must be paid to redeem.

It provides that in the sale shall be included the entire water works plant and system now operated by the city, and, in the language of the decree, "including the pump-house and site, reservoir and site, filter and site, engineer's dwelling and site, rights of way, easements, wells, cribs, mains, pipes, hydrants, gates, valves, pumping and other machinery, boilers, fixtures, furniture and tools, and all other property which now constitutes a part of the water-works plant and system in the possession of or operated by the defendant, or which is in anyway appurtenant thereto; also all improvements and structures upon said lands, and improvements upon and additions to said buildings and fixtures and machinery, and extensions to the main or pipe system as may be constructed, acquired, added or become appurtenant to said water-works plant and system up to the time of sale; also the franchise rights and privileges contained in the ordinance granted by the town of Pelican, to Moffett, Hodgkins & Clark, which said ordinance is hereby decreed to be as between the defendant and any purchaser at said sale the lawful and binding obligation of the city to perform the use of its streets and alleys for the maintaining and operation of a water-works plant within said city during the life and according to the terms of said ordinance, and to constitute the lawful and binding obligation of said city to pay to the purchaser at such sale, the by-plant rentals prescribed in said ordinance."

It further provides "that within sixty days from the date of this decree the defendant (city) pay to complainant, the sum of $2,119.75, being the amount of hydrant rentals to the first day of July, 1910, and that on or before the first day of January, 1911, and at the expiration of each six months thereafter, up to the time of sale under said decree, the defendant pay to complainant, the sum of $240.00, being the amount of each semi-annual instalment of hydrant rentals to become due successively to the said first day of July, 1910, so far as the defendant is municipally liable therefor, to-wit: to the extent of the semi-annual interest upon said bonds."

The decree further provides that in case the plant fails to sell for a sufficient amount to pay the above sums the city, shall, within ten days after the sale, pay to the trustee the net income from the plant from private consumers since November 16, 1905, or enough of same to meet the deficiency; that in case the plant is redeemed by the city it shall have credit for all sums paid under the decree as interest or hydrant rentals; and enjoins the city from committing or suffering any waste upon or to the plant, or in any way impairing its value from the date of the decree to the time of sale.

MONICO FARMER DIES.

Mike Soderland, who had long been ill with tuberculosis, died at St. Mary's hospital, Saturday. He was fifty years of age and previous to entering the hospital was employed on a farm near Mosko.

DID YOU GET TAGGED?

$113 Is Received By The Fair Young Taggers, Saturday.

Through the medium of tags the neat sum of $113.00 was collected for the endowment fund for the public library, Saturday. This is according to the report of the chairman of the library committee of the Woman's Club, Mrs. A. W. Shelton.

The young ladies, who had charge of the tagging, made a thorough canvass of the city and there were but few people on the streets who escaped their watchful eyes. It was on the principal business corners where the taggers reaped their harvest. Here they would await the approach of the pedestrians, and catching their victims unaware, adorn them with tags in a twinkling.

In all instances the people submitted willingly to the process and parted from their dimes and quarters with cheerful grace. Everyone seemed in the spirit to lend a helping hand to the movement and a single "grouch" could not be found.

HUNTER IS KILLED BY HIS COMPANION

Paul Luck, Portage, Is Mistaken For Deer By One Of His Own Party Near Minocqua.

The first fatality of the hunting season in this part of the country occurred Monday near Sawyer. The victim was Paul Luck, a young man from Portage. Luck was mistaken for a deer and shot by a member of his party. A physician was at once summoned from Arbor Vitae but the wounded man died in two hours. He was thirty-four years of age and single. His brother, an engineer on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway was one of the party.

Particulars Are Meager. Particulars of the shooting are difficult to obtain here. The New North telephoned Minocqua this morning but the people there appear to know but little of the tragedy.

It is learned that Luck was shot in the back by one of his companions whose home is at Portage. The bullet hit perforated the stomach and intestines and death was instantaneous. It is reported that the victim wore a blue and red jacket and cap as did also his friends.

A rumor was circulated in the city yesterday that Luck accidentally shot himself. This is doubted.

Luck was an engineer employed in the shops of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway at Portage. The body was taken to that city for burial.

ASMUNDSON WILL BE NEW UNDER-SHERIFF

Chas. Crofoot, Sheriff Elect, Appoints Him On Wishes Of The Scandinavians.

Chas. Crofoot, Oneida county's sheriff elect, informs the New North that he has appointed Chas. Asmundson as his under-sheriff.

In making this appointment Mr. Crofoot says that he conceded to the wishes of the Scandinavians of the City. It was their desire that Mr. Asmundson be given the position.

Mr. Asmundson is a man whose previous experience fits him well for the duties of the office. For some years he served on the city police force and was under-sheriff during Sheriff Kelley's administration. He was once a candidate for sheriff on the republican ticket.

Since his election Mr. Crofoot has been showered with congratulations on his victory.

VISIT FROM "OLE" JOHNSON.

D. S. Johnson, who in 1886 founded the Rhineland Herald and later was postmaster of this city and register of deeds of the county, is in the city. This is Mr. Johnson's first visit here in ten years. He has been hunting near Elcho, the guest of Mr. Gupill.

After leaving Rhineland Mr. Johnson conducted the Merrill News at which he engaged in newspaper work at Stevens Point. From there he went to Red Granite, where he is publisher of the Herald, the leading newspaper of that city. While here he will endeavor to see as many of his old friends as is possible.

NEARBY TOWNS

Park Falls—On Saturday night the day when he heard that Rosengren's big saw mill plant of the Atwood was dead. The men were said to be close friends before the quarrel. This is due to the fact that the company desires to make extensive improvements about the plant and also to extend its logging railway. The failure of the Soo railway company two men opponents by nearly a two to one vote. Mrs. Archibald is the cording to contract, has put the concern back considerably in the laying of tracks.

Ironwood—While crazed with liquor, Thos. Pierson shot and instantly killed his son-in-law, Chas. Anderson, a prominent merchant of Jessville. Trouble over the payment of a note existed between the two men and Pierson, harboring the belief that he was getting the worst of the transaction, secured a revolver and returning to Jessville, committed the crime. Anderson was a prominent citizen of the county and his shocking death has incensed the community to a high pitch.

Marinette—A charge of manslaughter has been lodged against Frank Oman who is held responsible for the death of Rune Rosengren, a member of the local fisher's colony who died from injuries received in a drunken brawl with Oman. Oman went for a sent season is going to be very much larger than that of 1909. The prediction that the year would show increased shipments of from 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 tons over last season, was adhered to until about two months ago, when the heavy movements took a decided slump.

Stevens Point—Providing the weather continues favorable the laying of the tracks in the Soo lines new freight yards here will be completed by December 1st. Forty men are now employed at the work. There will be nine tracks, each about a mile in length, with a storing capacity of 500 cars. Eighty-four pound steel is being used.

Crandon—O. C. Campbell, who was arrested here one year ago by a United States marshal for a serious crime committed in Kentucky, returned to Crandon, having been acquitted of the charges against him in his native state. There was positively no evidence by which to hold the man. At the time of Campbell's arrest the people of Crandon doubted that he was connected with the crime against him. He was the victim of a local man who was looking for a reputation as a sleuth.

Washburn—Eleven young people will receive their diplomas at the second mid-year commencement exercises of the Washburn High school on January 20th. Prof. O'Shea, of Wisconsin University, will deliver the address to the class on this occasion.

New London—In the foot ball game played here Saturday between the Appleton and New London High school teams, F. Walmer, captain of the local team, was seriously hurt, causing concussion of the brain.

Merrill—The Grandfather Falls Co. complains that young boys are making a practice of stealing paper from the plant. The boys, it is alleged, sell the stolen paper to retail merchants of this city. The police have been notified of the thefts and unless the practice is discontinued arrests will be made and trouble follow for both the youngsters and the merchants.

Antigo—H. C. Dreis, a prominent real estate man of Chicago, has just closed a deal with Joseph Duchac & Company for the purchase of 1,080 acres of land in this county. He intends to put the land in readiness for homesteaders, and by this means will bring a large number of new settlers to the county. Mr. Dreis has visited every farming section of the United States and he says that nowhere has he found such good land, such good drainage and rainfall and all the facilities as are to be found in northern Wisconsin.

Marinette—Miss Adeline Pratt has been elected register of deeds in Marinette Co. over Emory Gallineau, republican. Gallineau was the only candidate on the republican ticket who failed to be elected. Gallineau, who held the office during the last term, believes that Miss Pratt, who has been deputy register for the last thirteen years, can not qualify. He says, however, that she will hold office under instructions from his bonding company until some competent authority has given her a decision on her right to hold the office.

CAUSES SICKNESS.

Good Health Impossible With a Disordered Stomach.

There is nothing that will create sickness or cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people daily contract serious maladies simply through disregard for abuse of the stomach.

We urge every one suffering from any stomach derangement, indigestion or dyspepsia, whether acute or chronic, to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. With the distinct understanding that we will refund their money without question or formality, if after reasonable use of this medicine they are not satisfied with the results. We recommend them to our customers every day, and have yet to hear of any one who has not been benefited by them. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 a box. Sold in Rhinelander only at our store—The Rexall Store. J. J. Reardon.

BUSINESS COLLEGE NOTES.

John Kelley, Jr. spent election day at his home at Bradley where he went to vote.

A. LaMotte visited a few days last week with his people at Miroqua.

Verna Crego has again taken up her work with us after a brief visit with relatives and friends at Waupun and Antigo.

The class in Arithmetic have completed the subject of lumbering and took their test Thursday. The results were very good.

Many and varied are the questions brought up and discussed by the members of the commercial law class. They are now in the midst of "Corporation Law."

We expect when Ronald Reardon returns from his hunt, he will tell us all how easy it is to land them.

One of the principal topics of the day at Business College is "Does it pay to spend the time necessary to thoroughly learn a spelling lesson?"

TO SELL STATE LANDS.

F. B. Moody, deputy state forester went to Lac du Flambeau Monday to arrange for the sale of timber on some disputed state lands on the Indian reservation. To dispose of this tract, which contains about two million feet, it is necessary to obtain the authority of the United States government. This requires from one to two months time. The Flambeau Lumber Company is the intended purchaser.

DON'T SPEND MONEY WITH OUTSIDE FIRMS

But Patronize The Home Merchants Whose Taxes Help Maintain The City.

Every town in America, says an exchange, taxes the traveling circus. Why? Simply because it is argued that the circus takes money out of the town. This argument is a sound one. Self preservation is nature's first law. The circus realizes the soundness of the argument. It pays its license cheerfully. There is no way to collect license from the big catalogue house that pays no taxes in the local communities from which it draws sustenance. It comes in and brazenly competes with the public spirited, town-building retail merchant who pays taxes, helps in the various public enterprises for the good of the town, contributes to the local churches, helps maintain the local schools, and serves on the school board or in the village board or city council without a cent of pay. The circus comes but once a year—and the circus has redeeming features. It buys feed for the horses, provisions for the performers. Even the smallest traveling aggregation must leave some money in the town before it goes away. A minstrel show carrying only five or six people puts up at the local hotel and puts some money in circulation. But the catalogue house is bleeding the small towns every day in the year and it has no redeeming features. Did the catalogue house ever contribute one penny towards the good roads fund of your county, to your church, school or library, to your athletic park, to your baseball club? Just think it over. The merchant owes it to himself, to his town and to the catalogue house to use the weapons of "co-operation" and "association" to keep the catalogue houses out of his town. And the consumer should be urged to use the effective weapons of "loyalty" and "neighborliness" to destroy this vampire that thrives and fattens on the blood of the small town.

GOBBLER FEELS SAFE.

The turkey gobbler, rearing proud upon the barnyard fence, cuts up like sin and chorles loud as if bereft of sense. This is the burden of his tune: "I am immune! I am immune!" The common folk can never pay the price to lay me low. The tariff on my meat today is empty cents a throw. Even though Thanksgiving's coming soon I am immune! I am immune!" —Exchange.

NOW FOR BASKET BALL.

At a meeting of the High school athletic club, Tuesday evening, a basket ball team was organized. The team is composed of nearly all the players who started on last year's team and will be exceptionally strong. A schedule of games with neighboring High schools will be arranged.

One Crandon man is certainly having his quota of hard luck. Two days after he had been fined $100, and costs for selling Moonshine liquor, he was arrested and fined $25 for killing rabbits out of season.

In the town of Mercer, Iron county, Pat Ryan received 157 votes for sheriff against 15 for Whiteside, his opponent. In the entire county Pat ran fairly well but not strong enough to be elected. As Pat is a democrat how could he hope to win?

Mrs. J. Hughson of Tomahawk Lake, who is ill at St. Mary's hospital, is reported to be improving slowly and her ultimate recovery is looked for. Miss Maud Hughson has been at her mother's bedside during the week.

Chas. Weinfeld, the Wausau insurance man, was in the city Monday, calling on his policy holders and looking for new business. Charley has the reputation of being one of the state's real live insurance hustlers.

Mose Jensen, a merchant of Phlox, Langlade county, and who has many friends in this city, was here Sunday, the guest of his sister, Mrs. A. Rheasme. He was on his way home from Rochester, Minn., where he consulted the Drs. Mayo. Mr. Jensen's health has been poor for some time past.

The old, old story, told times without number, and repeated over and over again for the last 15 years, but it is always a welcome story to those in search of health—There is nothing in the world that cures coughs and colds so quickly as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Sold by All Dealers.

At the Northwestern depot, Tuesday afternoon a Finlander complained to Chief Straub that he had been robbed of thirty dollars by a young fellow with whom he came to the city. The hold-up he said occurred Monday night while the two were on a drinking expedition about the city. The victim was unable to give an accurate description of the robber and the Chief is inclined to doubt the story.

Simon Adams and family have returned from Mikana to where they moved a short time ago with the intention of making the place their home. Simon bought a blacksmith shop there, but learned that the business had been misrepresented to him and was glad to take his departure. He says that there is after all no town like Rhinelander and that not even a galling gun can induce him to leave here again.

Farmers in Oneida county who have been experimenting with the free tobacco seed sent out by the college of agriculture of the University, have been informed that no more of this seed will be distributed. The college officials believe that the farmers have been given the seed long enough for experimental purposes. Many farmers in this county have tried tobacco raising with success, as the excellent display of this product at the county fair, last September, would show.

GETS HIS FIRST DEER.

While hunting near Roosevelt, Saturday Jas. Desmond, instructor in history at the High school, killed his first deer, a fine doe weighing 175 pounds. F. A. Harrison superintendent of the city schools, was one of the party. Mr. Desmond is delighted with his success with the rifle.

ALL NOTICES will be charged at regular rates except notices of church service. Paid entertainments for churches will be charged at half rates.

The world loves a cheerful loser. This is a good moral for some of our defeated candidates.

Mr. Dooley says: The "Democrats" are now respectable since Wall Street and John D. Rockefeller have joined the party. Mr. Dooley should have added the fourth and fifth words of Rhinelanders.

Last week we stated that the ninth congressional district was in doubt. Since then the Secretary of State has given the certificate of election to the democrat, Thomas Konop by a majority of 5. Mr. Kusterman claims in one precinct thirty votes for him were not counted.

"CHARLEY BOYS" IN OFFICE.
Oneida county is blessed with "Charley Boys" in the county offices. Here is a list of them:

Chas. Crofoot, sheriff.
Chas. Asmundson, under-sheriff.
Chas. Fricke, district attorney.
Chas. Davis, register of deeds.
Chas. Decanter, coroner.
Carl (Chas.) Krueger, treasurer.

THEY CAN'T DOWN "TEDDY."
It is amusing to see how determined "The Special Interests" are to put Ex-President Roosevelt on the shelf. The fact is Maine went democratic before Roosevelt spoke a word on politics and the prediction was common that the country was going democratic at the fall elections.

Now, do you really think Teddy is to blame for all the sins of commission and omission of the republican party since William Howard Taft became President? We thought most of the time since the beginning of this administration Roosevelt was in Africa hunting tigers but it appears not. We would advise our Stalwart friends not to work that Teddy business too hard or the people may wake up and do their own thinking.

You know they have some ideas of their own lately.

TWO GO TO PRISON.
Pleading guilty to the charge of robbery from the person, Thos. Hennessey was sentenced to one year, and Frank Maschinski to six months in the state prison by County Judge Billings, last Thursday. The crime to which they admitted was committed at Mexico.

The men were taken to Waupun Tuesday by Sheriff Jilson.

WOLVES KEEP BOY TREED ALL NIGHT

Bundy Lad Becomes Lost and Has Trying Experience With Pack of Hungry Brutes.

Forced by a pack of hungry wolves to remain in the branches of a tree all night, with the famished brutes snarling and snapping beneath him, was the hair raising experience of Ray Butler, aged sixteen years, employed in one of the Bundy Lumber Company's camps.

On Tuesday afternoon the boy left camp to hunt partridges. He got lost and as evening came on the howling of wolves forced him to seek protection in the tree. The animals approached rapidly and were soon jumping and yelping under Butler's feet in their vain attempts to reach him. All night did the wolves keep the boy a prisoner and it was not until long after day break that they skulked away. Even after the animals had gone young Butler was so badly frightened and numbed from the cold that he could not leave the tree. His faint calls for help were heard and answered by R. G. Lowell of this city, and C. W. Wellman, of Oshkosh, who were hunting in that vicinity. The gentlemen took the lad to a camp, a few miles distant, where he was supplied with warm clothing and otherwise made comfortable. Butler's story of his night's experience reads like a chapter from the life of Daniel Boone.

Chas. Kibben, who has a farm not far from where the boy was treed, says that wolves are unusually numerous in that country this year.

Hard Task for Most Men.
Let the man who complains that his wife is foolish be compelled to show that he has no foolish habits—that he does not smoke or drink or waste his time talking inanities to other men, that he never is jealous of other men in his own line of business, that he is always good-natured and even-tempered.

Balked at the Altar.
A young man named Wahl, who was about to be married at Regensburg, Germany, had entered the church and taken his place beside the bride when he was suddenly seized with terror, and, rushing out, took a cab to the station and jumped into a moving train. Commotion reigned in the church, and the deserted bride fell in a swoon.

Motor Troubles.
The automobile being out of order, the head of the family took the children out in the old family carriage behind a nag that was in need of exercise. When the horse began to snort and cavort, the younger boy said: "Pop, you'd better shut off the current and fix him. He's missing fire."—Everybody's.

Moonshine and Stammering.
Moonshine has been found to have a marked effect on stammering. People so afflicted stammer most at the full of the moon.

FOOLED HIM BADLY.

Now He Kicks on Letters Written in the Third Person.

In one of the Paris restaurants a party of literary men were discussing the merits of various epistolary styles. One of them, Monsieur A., made a fierce attack on letters written in the third person, such as "Monsieur X. has the honor to inform"—and so on. Another of the party defended them, maintaining that they were not only more ceremonious, but that they were more polite.

"That's a good idea!" replied Monsieur A. "The foundation of all politeness in letter writing is to express clearly what you mean to say. Now, nothing can be more ambiguous than these confounded notes in the third person. I will just tell you what happened to myself. I received from my friend D., the chief of division, a billet doux, which I will show you."

Taking the note from his pocket, Monsieur A. read as follows: "Monsieur D., chief of division at the war office, hastens to inform his friend, Monsieur A., that he has just been named chevalier of the Legion of Honor."

"You can fancy my delight at reading this note," continued Monsieur A. "I was the happiest man in the world. I ran to an engraver and ordered him to make the flattering addition to my cards, 'Monsieur A., Chevalier of the Legion of Honor.' I ran to a mercer's and bought a piece of the richest red ribbon for my buttonhole. I ran to the houses of my friends for the pleasure of receiving their congratulations. At last I ran to my friend D.'s. As soon as I caught sight of him I threw myself into his arms. 'Ah, my dear fellow,' I exclaimed, 'you have no idea what pleasure you have given. How shall I ever thank you sufficiently?'"

"You are an excellent fellow, my worthy A., to sympathize thus with my happiness."

"Thank you for that expression; the decoration is mine, and the happiness is yours."

"How is that? Have you received the order?"

"Certainly; have I not?"

"No, my good friend; 'tis I who am now made chevalier."

"Yes? You deserve the honor more than I do, but, nevertheless, it has been conferred on me."

"But you wrote me word that I had received the cross." I took his letter out of my pocket and showed it him. Alas! I now understood clearly what meaning I ought to assign to the ambiguous phrase. "The deuce take you and your note," I said to D. "Instead of your affected and formal announcement in the third person, why could you not write to me simply and plainly, 'My dear friend, I have the pleasure of informing you that I now am decore chevalier?'"

Quakers Never "Nervous."
It is not in my memory that a professing Quaker ever came into my hands to be treated for nervousness. If the opinion I have already stated so often is correct, namely, that want of control of the emotions and the over-expression of the feelings are prime causes of nervousness, then the fact that discipline of the emotions is a lesson early and constantly taught by Friends would help to account for the infrequency of this disorder among them and add emphasis to the belief in such causation.—From "Self Help For Nervous Women," by Dr. Kearsley Mitchell.

A Remarkable Man.
John Ziska, the great Hussite leader of the fifteenth century, was one of the most remarkable men that ever lived. His life story reads like a romance. Nothing in history is more interesting, more thrilling, than the account of his heroic deeds. Though blind and always greatly outnumbered, Ziska invariably beat his enemies and established for himself a fame that will last forever. He was never beaten in a battle. His very name was a terror to his enemies. He died in 1424, while besieging Prazabslaw, at the age of sixty-four.—New York American.

Spoons.
The origin of the spoon is uncertain. It must have been invented at a very ancient date, for it is found among people that have never come into contact with civilization. The necessity of having some implement for dipping water seems to have led first to the invention of the calabash or the use of the coconut shell and later on to the spoon.

Didn't Know "the Uncle."
Aunt Jane—I guess Mr. Spender must be a very neat person. Edith—And what leads you to that opinion? Aunt Jane—He told your Uncle George all his clothes but those upon his back were hung up. Some men, you know, throw their things round anywhere.—Boston Transcript.

Mistook the Punctuation.
The Young Woman (surprised and indignant)—How dared you kiss me, sir! Penitent Young Man—Why, you said you'd like to see me do it. The Young Woman—But you know as well as I do that I said it with an exclamation point at the end!—Chicago Tribune.

The Assent Sarcasm.
He (at the end of a fishing story)—My word, it was a monster! "Pon my word, I never saw such a fish in my life! She—I don't believe you ever did!—London Mail.

Riches and able to solder to an abundance of flaws.—Preston.

The First Milliners.

About two hundred years ago Milan was noted for the snarrie made there for female wear, the manufacturers of which were men. They were therefore known as milliners, from the name of the place.

Human Imperfections.

It is not human to be perfect. Irritability, intolerance, conceit, foolishness, irresolution, love of pleasure—all are qualities shared in greater or less degree by most of the human family.

PLANS AND SUPERVISION
CHAS. J. RANTZ
ARCHITECT

A DRESDEN SHEPHERDESS.

The Wolf That Saw Her and Made Her His Own.

By F. B. WRIGHT.

It had been a hard day for the little schoolmistress. The children had been stupid and mischievous and at the worst time had come a supervisor to criticize the lack of discipline. Miss Winthrop was too young, he had said. Perhaps the board should get a more experienced teacher.

What that meant Cicely did not dare to think, and now, crouched in the darkness by the garret window, she was trying to forget her worries, for there were to be a garden party and masquerade at the Stenington place near by. From the window she could overlook the grounds, all a-twinkle with innumerable Japanese lanterns; see the house itself, its lighted porches, its windows lively with many colored passing figures, and watch the ladies arriving at the entrance and floating in like white moths out of the summer night.

At first it was enough just to sit there, head on sill, watching it all and hearing the swing and rhythm of the faint dance music. But little by little came over her a longing to have some part in the gayety her whole young spirit craved. She was young too. She was pretty, as her mirror told her. She had loved dancing in the old days. Ah, those days! They seemed so far off, and yet only two years separated them from the present. Now life was so different—no more girlhood, no more pleasure, no more pretty clothes or jolly parties. That last one, the one just before her father died—that had been a bad masque too. The costume was in her trunk now—as if she would ever get the chance to wear it again!

And yet why not? A sudden thought set her heart thumping. Why not go to this one? Only for a moment. It was a masquerade. No one would know her. She could slip in through the shrubbery unobserved, mingle with the crowd and then—The plan was very dazzling to the little girl in the garret window.

Two hours later Cicely—no, not Cicely, but a Dresden china shepherdess—who had stolen away from her own life and forgotten all its cares, found herself one of a hundred or two other gay, fantastic conundrums, who chatted, laughed, banded repartee, flirted in obscure corners, sat on shadow porches or glided beneath soft lights to the dreamy music of a hidden orchestra.

The life and movement, the kaleidoscopic play of color, the sheen and luster of silk and satin, the gleam of snowy arms and shoulders, the fragrance of flowers, the admiration of her partners, filled the girl's heart with delight, and her courage rose to the occasion. She was surprised to find how behind the protection of her mask she could act her part even as if she, too, belonged to the party.

Once in the swirl of a waltz she caught sight of herself in a long mirror and doubted her eyes. Could that be she, that dainty, graceful madcap with her cheeks flushed, her eyes sparkling through the slits in her visor, her hair in golden disorder at her neck—that Cicely Winthrop, with her own living to make and shabby clothes to wear? And the music—it seemed to lift her on its wings and bear her over the floor as lightly as any thistledown. That was what her last partner had said, a cavalier of Charles II., when at the end of a dance they were sitting in the dimly lighted conservatory.

"Thistledown! I believe that's what you are, or else a fairy. No shepherdess could dance as you do, not even one out of Watteau, and, besides, where are your sheep? You haven't even one little innocent snow white lamb!"

"I've escaped for a moment from them."

"Faithless shepherdess! Aren't you afraid of wolves?"

"Awfully! One came into the sheepfold today, a very savage one."

"The poor lamb! My heart bleeds!"

"It needn't. They only eat shepherdesses."

"The brutes! Do you have to fight them single handed?"

Cicely nodded. "It's hard sometimes."

"Don't you need an assistant shepherd to help? I like to kill wolves, and I adore sheep and—shepherdesses."

"You wouldn't if you could see them as they really are. The lambs are not a bit adorable, only stupid and tiresome, and the shepherdess—she'd be wearing a shabby gown and big shoes and her hair untidied. No; you'd best remain with the court."

"Hang the court! I'd heaps rather be a shepherd. Won't you take me on trial?"

There was just a note of earnestness in the cavalier's voice, and Cicely tried to turn it away lightly. "I don't think you would do at all. You are much too fine a gallant."

"I may not be as fine as I seem," he returned. "I may be something quite different."

"That's it. You might be a wolf, you know, and then what would happen to my flock? No; I can't take the risk."

"Then when is the shepherdess coming to court again?"

"Never, I'm afraid. You see, she's only allowed one evening off in years, and, besides, she has no court costume."

Oh, this—a fairy godmother touched the shabby gown and the big shoes, and when the night is over they change back as they were."

"And the girl?"

"Oh, she will be whisked away too. Not before unmasking time comes anyway. There is the signal now," he said as a chime of bells rang in the distant hall, followed by the sound of laughter. "Ah, you are caught, fairy shepherdess! Now disappear if you can!"

He dragged off his mask and waited expectant, looking at the girl. Cicely felt the blood rush to her face. "I—I must go," she said hurriedly and rose. "I didn't know it was so late."

"Go! Why, you know you promised me supper, and—"

"I didn't think. I forgot for a moment. No, I must."

"Without unmasking?"

"I can't. Don't ask me why. There are reasons. Oh, I can't explain. Please let me get away!" she cried, for the man had stepped before the door. Cicely cast a hurried glance about. She spied a door leading into the garden, and before the cavalier could guess her intention she had fled through it blindly into the night, he after her.

She did not know where she ran nor care. Her only thought was to escape discovery, to get away home before exposure came. On she fled, across the lawn, into the shadow of the shrubbery, tripping over roots, held back by clinging vines, her mask brushed from her face, her breath giving out and discovery and shame at her heels. Then she tried to find some hiding place and, falling, sank down on a bench, with a bitter, despairing cry, and buried her face in her hands.

"Why did you run? You might have known you couldn't escape me," said her pursuer as he came up. Then as he heard the girl's sobs, "Are you hurt?"

"Yes, yes," she sobbed, "but not as you think! Oh, why did I ever come? How am I to tell you? What will you think of me? I ought not to be here tonight. I am not a guest. I had no right to come."

It was a confession punctuated by sobs and little gasps of pain that the cavalier listened to.

"I saw the lights," Cicely added, "and then the waltz music came to me, and I couldn't resist it. I thought there'd be no harm—just for an hour, and then I could go back and no one would know, and I could have one pleasant memory among dreary, drudging days. I'm—I'm not so very old, and I haven't had any pleasure or happiness in so long, and this was a chance, and I took it."

She rose and dried her eyes. "You see, I told you the truth. I'm only a shepherdess and had no place in court, and now I must go back to the sheep and the wolves again. It's been—I can't tell you what this evening has been—except this last."

"Do you care so much, then, that I know who you are?" The cavalier was standing beside the shepherdess, looking down at the bent head showing so softly in the dusky shadows.

"I would have sought you out in any case—if I had to search the world over. Do you care now that I know?"

"No," returned Cicely softly.

"And I may come tomorrow and see the lambs—and the shepherdess."

"I don't think it would be best for the lambs, but—I usually come home from the sheepfold by way of the red bridge and—"

"If you saw a wolf waiting by the bridge, would you mind?"

"Not if it was a nice wolf."

"And if the wolf were to carry you off and the lambs have to have another shepherdess would you be very much scared?" asked the cavalier.

"I—I don't think so," whispered the little Dresden shepherdess. "I think—I'd rather like it."

Getting the Musical Pitch.

Musical pitch has a curious tendency to creep up. It is said that Bach's music sounds much differently now from what it did when Bach wrote it because the instruments are now pitched higher. In 1882 it was found that the pitch of high A at the Vienna Court Opera had crept from the prescribed 435 double vibrations a second to 443, and in 1885 this number had further increased to 450. Accordingly a musical conference was held, and a resolution was taken to re-establish the old pitch of 435 vibrations per second. Upon this announcement the Reichsanstalt, the Imperial physical and technical institute of Germany, set up standard instruments and has since tested and corrected many hundreds of tuning forks, shortening them if they are too low in pitch and thinning the arms if they are too high. All the military orchestras of Germany are pitched alike, and the Reichsanstalt keeps the tuning forks correct.

St. Catherine's Rock.

Opposite the ruins of the old castle at Tenby, and separated by a belt of sand which is covered twice a day by a racing tide, stands St. Catherine's rock, off the coast of Wales. Until half a century ago it was no more than a rock, with great caverns in its sides and open passageways through its middle above and under water. Then the wisdom of the British war office decided that it should protect Pembroke docks, perhaps ten miles away by land and thirty by sea, and on the top of the rock was built a fort. But when the big guns were mounted it was found that they could not be fired, for they shook down the rock from the arched passages, and might have shaken down the fort itself. So the fort was dismantled and the guns removed, and a year or two ago the whole rock, fort and all, was sold for a few hundred pounds to a private owner, who uses it as a seaside house for his holidays.—Argonaut.

SUFFERED THREE YEARS WITH CHRONIC CATARRH.

Mr. Disch, of Louisville, Gives Peruna the Credit for His Recovery, and Recommends it to His Friends.

MR. JOSEPH F. DISCH, 454 W. Jefferson St., Louisville, Ky., writes: "I take great pleasure in recommending your valuable Peruna as a catarrh remedy."

"I have been suffering for the past three years with catarrh, and had used almost everything in the market until I read of your wonderful Peruna remedy. After using two bottles of Peruna I can cheerfully recommend it to any one having the same disease."

"I was almost compelled to give up my business, until I used your remedy, and I have never been bothered with catarrh since."

Hon. C. E. Simpson, Congressman from Virginia, writes: "I can cheerfully say that I have used your valuable remedy, Peruna, with beneficial results, and can unhesitatingly recommend your remedy to my friends as an invigorating tonic and an effective and permanent cure for catarrh."

People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna Tablets. Sold by druggists, and manufactured by The Peruna Drug Mfg. Co., Columbus, Ohio. Man-a-lin an Ideal Laxative.

ARE HAPPILY WEDDED.

Mrs. Ella Hilber Hutchinson is Bride of Edward Haley.

Wednesday morning at eight o'clock there was solemnized the wedding of Mrs. Ella Hilber Hutchinson, of this city, and Mr. Edward Haley, of Antigo. The ceremony took place at St. Mary's Catholic church and was performed by Rev. Father Gerhart, assistant pastor, in the presence of friends and relatives of the young couple.

Miss Mayme Klemmer of Oshkosh, assisted the bride, and Michael Haley, brother of the groom, was best man. The bride was attired in a smart tailored suit of green.

From the church the party repaired to the Rapids Hotel where twenty-five guests partook of breakfast. The tables were artistically decorated with similar and daisies.

The bride is well known and has a wide circle of admiring friends in Rhinelander. She has also a large acquaintance in Antigo where she resided for several years.

Mr. Haley was until recently engaged in the ice business at Antigo, but disposed of his interests there to locate in the west. He is a young man who has the respect and confidence of his associates and is well thought of in his home city. Through frequent visits to Rhinelander he has made many friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Haley will spend a week in this city and Antigo, after which they will depart for Butte, Mont., their future home. The best wishes for a long, happy and prosperous life go with them.

NOTICE

DEATH OF JESSE SIPES.

Jesse Sipes, for many years as employee of the Yawkey-Bissell Lumber Company at Hazelhurst, died on November 7th, at Minneapolis. In Rhinelander his death has caused regret among many friends.

Deceased was a member of the F. & A. M. lodge of Merrill and of Wausau Chapter and St. Omer Commandery of that city.

The remains were interred at Wausau, Thursday. A wife and three children survive.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heart-burn," belching of gas, acid rising in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at these will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of native American medicinal forest plants. MONEY IN FRUIT RAISING.
H. L. Reeve of Otis, Wash., is the guest of Paul Browne.

Mr. Reeve is on his way to the West from a visit with Appleton relatives. Five years ago he purchased twenty acres of land, near Otis, on which he planted 1500 fruit trees. His crops have netted him a nice sum and within a few years he will be in the independent class. Mr. Reeve's orchard is a short distance from Gerry Browne's fruit ranch in the Spokane Valley.

TESTED AND PROVEN.

There is a Heap of Solace in Being Able to Depend Upon a Well-Earned Reputation.

For months Rhinelander readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. Not another remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit.

Mrs. A. Grubel, 825 Arbutus St., Rhinelander, Wis., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and have found them to be just as represented. When I recommend this remedy, I know that I am endorsing a specific for kidney trouble. I had an attack of this complaint and was suffering quite severely when I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Reardon's Drug Store. Soon after I began their use, the pain disappeared and I felt much better in every way." (Statement given May 31, 1907.)

Re-Endorsement.
On November 2, 1910, Mrs. Grubel said: "I gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills again. Whenever I use this remedy it brings the best of results and I have thus been convinced of its merits."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McIlhenny Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

VICTIM OF TUBERCULOSIS.
Following years of suffering with tuberculosis death came to Martin Jacobson, a town of Pelican resident, Friday.

Deceased was sixty-four years of age. He leaves to mourn him two sons, one of whom, Oscar Jacobson, is cook at Henning's restaurant in this city.

Mr. Jacobson was a man with many friends in this city and the town of Pelican. He made his home on the Pelican river bank near the Walters farm.

The funeral was held from Hildebrand's undertaking parlors, Saturday afternoon. Rev. Clemens of the M. E. church, delivered prayer.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.
Uncle Tom's Cabin was pictured at the Bijou last Friday night to large and appreciative audiences.

The managers, Hanson & Taylor, are trying hard to secure the best in the picture line for Rhinelander and are to be congratulated on their efforts to entertain the public of our city.

Uncle Tom was repeated Sunday night to capacity houses.

GAZES INTO RIFLE BARREL.
Leslie Sorenson came close to being the target for a careless hunter near Roosevelt, Monday. Leslie had just scrambled onto a windfall when he had the pleasure of seeing a man, not fifty yards distance, point a rifle at him. Leslie gave a yell like a Sioux Indian at which the man quickly lowered his weapon and sneaked into the underbrush. With the prospects of a big Thanksgiving feast ahead of him, Leslie says that he couldn't stand for being wiped out of existence. He has every reason to believe that the careless hunter was a resident of Waupaca.

WM. VAN MILLS DIES AT BUNDY.
After a short illness Wm. Van Mills of Bundy died last Thursday morning at that village.

Mr. Van Mills was thirty years of age and is survived by a wife and two children. For several years he had been in the employ of the Bundy Lumber Company and was regarded as a faithful employee.

The funeral was held Saturday at Bundy under the direction of the M. W. A. lodge of which deceased was a member. The remains were brought to this city for interment.

IS ELECTED SHERIFF.
At the recent election J. Kearns, a brother of Mike Kearns of this city, was elected sheriff of Bonner county, Idaho, by a large majority over his republican opponent. For a number of years past Mr. Kearns has been engaged in business at Sand Point. He has many friends among the old residents of Rhinelander.

MAY PURCHASE TWO ROADS.
An unconfirmed rumor is in circulation in railroad circles here that the Soo railway company is about to purchase the Wisconsin & Michigan and the Wisconsin & Northern railroads. It has been known that for some time the Soo has been considering such a deal. Should the sale take place it is said that the mileage of both roads will be greatly increased.

AN ENJOYABLE ELK'S PARTY.

Friday evening a fair crowd congregated at Gulligan's hall, to attend the second dance of the season given by the local lodge of Elks. The Military orchestra rendered the music and a good time was enjoyed by all.

The committee on dancing, insures an interest being taken in these affairs, being composed of C. A. Courro, T. C. Wood, R. F. Tompkins, H. H. Jewett, Paul Gaston, W. A. Brown and D. F. Recker.

This committee has worked hard to bring the standard of the club up to a perfection and they are to be complimented on the interest they have displayed in the entertainments and amusements they are providing this season.

The next of the series of dances by the Elks will be on the evening of Nov. 25.

RAISES LARGE VEGETABLES.
Some of the largest vegetables raised in Oneida county this year were on exhibition recently at the Arlington Hotel. The vegetables, consisting of carrots, beets, potatoes and etc., were raised on the farm of Wm. Monahan, landlord at the Arlington. Two of the carrots weighed nearly three pounds each, and one of the potatoes weighed the heaviest at four pounds. Mr. Monahan says that the vegetables were not picked out for display purposes but that he has a cellar full of the same kind. This statement, though, cannot be touched for as Mr. Monahan failed to show us.

TOO MANY PARTRIDGES.
For disposing of two suit cases full of partridges to Frank Hurlbut, a brakeman on Soo passenger trains 84 and 85, John Gardner of McCord was fined twenty-five dollars and costs.

About four weeks ago, Hurlbut, in whose possession the birds were found, was arrested and received a similar fine. The law states that not more than fifteen partridges can be had in one's possession at any one time. Forty-nine were found in the two suit cases.

CLAIMS VENISON IS BEEF.
Deputy Game Warden Berg, of this city, tells of a half breed Indian, who was arrested near Tomahawk for having venison and hides in his possession. Before the judge the dark skinned offender persisting that the meat was not venison but beef and also that the skins were those of cattle. Finally the fellow confessed to breaking the law and was fined $25 and costs. His friends came to his relief with the money just as he was about to be taken to the Merrill jail.

After Grippe
or any Sickness

Vinol Creates Strength

"After a long attack of Grippe, Mrs. Vaughn seemed unable to recover her strength. She was very weak and had no appetite. VINOL rapidly improved her condition and restored her to health. I sincerely recommend its use during convalescence or any run down condition."

JUDGE C. N. VAUGHN,
Huntsville, Ala.

Miss Adelaide Gamm, of Watertown, Wis., writes, "After a severe attack of the Grippe, my system was in a very weakened, nervous, run-down condition. I took VINOL with the best of results, and it made me feel better and stronger than I have been for years."

We have never sold in our store a more valuable health restorer for weak and run down persons than VINOL, and we ask such people in this vicinity to try VINOL with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not do all we claim for it.

Ed. Fisher was in town for a day.
Barney Myers will stay in Bundy during the hunting season. Thus far he has been very successful.
Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hurlbut of Parish were visiting Bundy friends Sunday.
Jim Demroe went to DePere last week to see his family.
A certain article published in the New North last week concerning E. Foat, Pelican Lake has created quite a disturbance in a certain section of this village.
Frank O'Farrel is visiting his many friends in Bundy.
Mr. and Mrs. Shampine were in Rhinelander last week.

HAZELHURST
The dance held at the Opera house Saturday night was well attended. River road and all report a very pleasant time.
Miss Elizabeth McCarthy, primary teacher here, spent Sunday at her home at Merrill.
Frank Bryant of Rhinelander was a business caller, Saturday.
Miss Jessie Flaherty, who has been attending Normal at Stevens Point, came home on a visit Saturday.
The necktie sociable held at the hall Friday evening, was a success. A very large crowd attended. The ladies cleared $9.55.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Berrend returned from Wausau, Friday where they have been visiting for a few days.
Charley Ahlborn killed a 300 pound deer, Friday. Can any one beat that?
Chester Swartz, who is attending school at Tomahawk, spent Sunday with his father at Garth.
Mr. Flaherty returned Friday from Duluth, where he has been visiting for a few days.
Rev. I. C. Lewis of Tomahawk held services at the M. E. church Monday evening.
Miss Jennie Berg and friend of Arbor Vitae spent the week's end at the home of Axel Anderson.
Mrs. Ada Berg spent Sunday at her mother's at Arbor Vitae.
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Swartz of Garth spent Sunday at her father's home.
Leo Boyer returned Sunday after spending several months down the line.

Word was received here of the death of Jesse Sipes, formerly store manager here; all who knew Mr. Sipes liked him and he had many friends who were sorry to hear of his sudden death.
Mrs. Henry Ahlborn was called to Merrill, Tuesday on account of the death of her stepfather.
ROOSEVELT
Dr. Chas. McIndoe and Sam Higgins spent Sunday at the Swalls' resort.
Prof. F. A. Harrison and Mr. Desmond spent several days last week hunting in these woods.
D. M. Transen of LaCrosse spent several days last week at the Swalls' resort.
Paul Gaston was an over Sunday visitor with the Swalls.
Richard Brown joined the hunting parties last week.
The skating is good, and many have enjoyed it.
Orville Swalls is assisting Mr. Thompson on the stone work of the Pierce cottage at the head of the lake; the building will be a fine one.
The stone work on the Conro cottage is nearly completed and the carpenters will begin work this week.

ROBBINS
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kugel are rejoicing over the arrival of a son.
Tom Doyle called on Robbinsites, Tuesday.
H. D. Manseau of Green Bay and A. Gustman, and family of Wrightstown are guests at the Miller home.
Arthur Gustman, the twelve year old son of A. Gustman of Wrightstown blew the thumb and finger of his left hand off Saturday, by the explosion of a dynamite cap. The boy is at the hospital and doing nicely.
There will be a dance at camp No. 5, Sunday, Nov. 20.

Paris Green.
Paris green is a double arsenite and acetate of copper, containing arsenious acid, oxide of copper and acetic acid. Its manufacture is too complicated and too dangerous for an amateur to attempt. The immense quantities of Paris green made in the chemical factories enable the drug stores to retail it very cheaply.

Built Nest in Old Pump.
A pair of tits have built their nest at Highmoor, Wigton, Cumberland, England, in a disused and one-time famous iron pump, which formerly stood in Wigton Market Place, and was referred to by Charles Dickens in one of his books.

Genius and Goodness.
Under heaven there is but one thing we ought to bow to—genius, and only one thing before which we ought to kneel—goodness.—Victor Hugo.
